

Where can I go for further information?

Raising Children Network, funded under the Australian Government's Stronger Families and Communities Strategy, is a national website aimed at helping families care for their children. Articles on a range of issues relevant to children's development are available at www.raisingchildren.net.au.

Articles on a range of issues relevant to positive separations are available on this website. Website address details are provided below or click on the 'grown-ups' tab to access the articles:

- ▶ www.raisingchildren.net.au/articles/fear\_of\_strangers.html
- ▶ www.raisingchildren.net.au/articles/separation\_anxiety.html/context/594
- ▶ www.raisingchildren.net.au/articles/settling\_into\_care.html/context/594

The Australian Psychological Society is the largest professional association for psychologists in Australia. It spreads the message that psychologists make a difference to peoples' lives, through improving their health and wellbeing and increasing scientific knowledge. Tip sheets on a range of topics related to children's mental health are available at www.psychology.org.au – See 'Tip Sheets' in the 'Publications and Products' tab (top right-hand side of the home page) for details.

The Centre for Community Child Health supports and empowers communities to improve children's health and wellbeing. It operates clinical services, research and programs. A range of resources and publications are available at www.rch.org.au/ccch – See 'Childcare and Children's Health' in the 'Resources and Publications' tab on the toolbar on the left-hand side of the page.

Early Childhood Australia is the peak national, non-profit, non-government organisation that acts in the interests of young children. They provide a range of options and outcomes to support growth and development of young children. Articles on issues relevant to child development and mental health are available at www.earlychildhoodaustralia.org.au. A direct link to an article about positive separations is provided below:

- ▶ www.earlychildhoodaustralia.org.au/feelings\_and\_behaviours/everyday\_feelings/separation\_anxiety.html.

Kidscount, developed by the Australian Childhood Foundation, is a website for parents and carers that provides useful information about supporting children's development. It is available in a range of languages at www.kidscount.com.au.

The Australian Association for Infant Mental Health have position papers to support infant mental health professionals and parents and carers available at www.aaimhi.org.

Child and Youth Health is a South Australian Government website providing news and practical advice for parents and carers on a range of parenting and child health topics, including separation anxiety, available at: www.cyh.com/HealthTopics/HealthTopicDetails.aspx?p=114&np=141&id=1848.

This resource and further information on the national KidsMatter Early Childhood initiative is available to download at www.kidsmatter.edu.au. The KidsMatter Early Childhood team also welcomes your feedback which can be submitted through the website.

Australian Government
Department of Health and Ageing

The KidsMatter Early Childhood information sheets are resources that have been developed in collaboration and with funding from the Australian Government Department of Health and Ageing. While every care has been taken in preparing this publication, the Commonwealth does not accept liability for any injury or loss or damage arising from the use of, or reliance upon, the content of this publication.